Tuesday, August 1 – Sunday, August 6, 2023
Hilton Atlanta
255 Courtland Street, NE
Atlanta, GA 30303

Make sure you save the date and space in the budget for the NBNA 2023 Annual Conference scheduled to be held at the Hilton Atlanta hotel in Atlanta, GA on August 1-6, 2023.

As of now, we are planning for the 2023 conference to be face-to-face. The safety of all attendees and staff is our top priority – we will follow all relevant protocols and CDC guidelines in place at the time of the conference. We are already working closely with the Hilton Atlanta to comply with the recommended practices that may change in the coming months.

Deadline: Abstracts must be received on or before February 15, 2023

All abstracts will be approved for presentation and certified for contact hours by the Ohio Nurses Association, an accredited approver for the American Nurses Credentialing Center’s Commission on Accreditation.

The National Black Nurses Association invites abstracts that describe an original program, project or study created, developed or implemented with at least one of the objectives from the areas listed below. Your presentation should reflect the theme of the conference wherever possible.

1. Must contribute to the advancement, extension and enhancement of the professional skills and scientific knowledge or technical skills of the registered nurse above the level required for licensure.
2. Must relate to the practice of nursing.
3. Must be relevant to both the educational needs of nurses, individuals, families and or communities.

As we convene the 51st NBNA Annual Institute and Conference, we continue to celebrate our beginnings and amplify the importance of our very first conference held in Cleveland, Ohio in September of 1972.

Fifty-one years later, Black nurses remain strong as are key leaders in reducing disparities and advancing health equity through their innovations in nursing practice, education, research, policy advocacy, and entrepreneurship. Our annual institute and conference is designed to equip attendees with the requisite knowledge needed to address cross cutting issues affecting nursing, health care, and health equity.

CONFERENCE OBJECTIVES:

• Discuss the criticality of innovation in advancing health care, the profession, and health equity.
• Define the concept “built environment” and its relationship to public’s health in general and specifically racial and ethnic minorities.
• Examine emerging models and opportunities for improving the built environment.¹
• Analyze key concepts for effective mentoring of current and emerging leaders in nursing.
• Articulate new approaches for effective community engagement.
• Identify trends and issues affecting health equity and social justice.

NBNA is seeking abstracts on the following topics for the Institutes, Workshops and Posters:

☐ Social Justice and Health Disparities

¹The built environment includes the physical makeup of where we live, learn, work, and play-our homes, schools, businesses, streets, sidewalks, open spaces and transportation options. The built environment can influence overall community health and individual behaviors such as physical activity and healthy eating (CDC, 2022).
